Piano Moving Specialists Colin Batt Removals are specialist piano movers and we have been moving your pianos since 1978. We have moved thousands of pianos over the years, from uprights through windows and grands up spiral stairs, and our many customers have included Elton John, The Royal Collection Trust and even Beethoven. Colin Batt Removals was the piano mover selected to move Beethoven's original piano, made by John Broadwood & Sons, on a Europe-wide tour. The Beethoven piano is one of the oldest and most valuable instruments in the world, and we gave it the extraordinary level of care it deserved, just like we do with every piano we move. Colin Batt Removals has built up an outstanding reputation by providing an exceptional piano removals service throughout our history and we are now the first choice for many quality piano dealerships throughout Kent, London and the South East. Many top dealers would use no-one else, with the result that we are often asked to tackle challenges that no other piano mover will take on. We have the skills, passion and experience to take care of your piano and for extra peace of mind all our pianos moves are ful
