I began my professional life as a performer but soon found that teaching is my real passion. My aim is to give every one of my pupils the tools to pursue their own personal musical goals, whether they want to pass exams or are playing purely for fun. I have over 20 years experience, teaching all ages from 4 to 80, and all levels from complete beginners to post-Grade 8. I spent some years as a mentor on the ABRSM Professional Development course, helping other teachers refine their skills, and I am also an ABRSM examiner. I teach in my own studio on a Steinway grand piano. The location is SW20, convenient for anyone in South London or Surrey - Wimbledon, Merton Park, Raynes Park and Morden are all very close, and I also have a number of pupils who come to me from the New Malden area.

Qualification: MA LRAM ARCM
