

SE22 Piano School

East Dulwich, London SE22 0JU
England

The SE22 Piano School is based in East Dulwich in commercial premises on Pellatt Road. We teach many styles of music including jazz, improvisation and classical. We also teach music theory. Many of our students follow the graded exam system and regularly achieve marks at the highest level. You can see our results published on our web site. We have a busy extra-curricular program of musical activities including twice-yearly concerts at venues such as Alleyn's, Dulwich College and Kingsdale Foundation School and school trips to perform on stage with the Southbank Sinfonia Orchestra at Cadogan Hall. We have four piano teachers working in the studio, each specialising in a different area of teaching. We accept children from age 4. We welcome adult learners and restarters. See our web site for further information:
<http://www.se22piano.co.uk> We also organise lots of events specifically for adult amateur pianists at Steinway Hall:
<http://www.meetup.com/LondonPMG/> We are founders of the Dulwich Piano Festival, a piano competition for local pianists that is now in its third year.
