I am a very patient, experienced and friendly teacher who comes to your house. I have been teaching the piano for over 15 years, and I teach at beginner and intermediate level, or Grade 1-6, children and adults, exams or pleasure. I also prepare pupils for Grade 5 Theory ABRSM. I have so far primarily used ABRSM for piano exams (with my pupils often achieving merit or distinction), but I would be happy to use other boards as well. I really enjoy teaching both children and adults and I believe that the pupils should enjoy music, and that everybody should progress at their own pace. I try to find individual interests, and hopefully never just push from one grade to the next. My degree is in music pedagogy and I draw on this as well as on my wide experience. I live in Enfield, but I can travel to many other areas in NW London, depending on availability. My normal charges are (although they can be negotiated depending on circumstances):

Qualification: BA Music Pedagogy, Novi Sad
