Our Philosophy Quality, originality and style, backed by knowledge, experience and an original eye, and a love for what we sell. Decorative Antiques Our aim at Lionheart is to offer one-off decorative antiques to discerning private buyers, collectors, interior designers and decorators, with emphasis on decorative British, european, colonial and middle eastern furniture, also vintage pieces with character, stylish mid century furniture and mirrors, in particular pieces that can add a decorative statement. Our pieces look good in town or in country, in complete period settings, or as elements or accents in contemporary spaces. Eclectic. Lionheart Interiors source genuine 17th century pieces, all the way through to the 1970's, we love the idea of mixing it all up, it's a fresh and exciting way of creating unique interiors using antiques, vintage and mid century items whilst recycling objects that may once have been considered obsolete. Upcycled. Concentrating on the conservation and care of antique furniture, it has long been apparent to us the importance of recycling furniture and in doing so, helping to reduce the impact of disposable products on the environment. It's a known fact that an antique's carbon footprint is 16 times less than the modern manufactured equivalent. Lionheart Interiors also intend to offer bespoke items of upcycled furniture, using salvaged woods and antique fragments, for making cupboards, bookcases and dining tables, we shall implement a dedicated page for these items.
