Tutoring Experience: I have taught privately for over 10 years - I have built strong and trusting relationships with all my pupils and I have a 92% merit and distinction rate with ABRSM exams. My teaching is from home, where I can provide a quality piano (either for learning on or for accompanying a string pupil). Tutoring

Approach: When we first meet, I like to discover what goals you are aiming for...if you are an adult looking to start a new skill for simple enjoyment, be it to achieve Grade 1 or to be able to play the Christmas Carol you've always loved, or if you would like your child to develop more confidence in the instrument to be able to take ABRSM grades. Whatever your intention, I will work with you to achieve these goals at the speed you are most comfortable. I will actively encourage questions - my desire is for you to understand what you are learning without feeling overwhelmed!
