A classical trained musician/graduate with vast experience teaching both children and adults the piano, keyboard and brass instruments. I teach all ages and abilities and can travel to pupils home if convenient. I teach all aspects of learning a musical instrument from understanding the musical theory to developing technique. When I teach, I try to make sure my lessons are enjoyable and most importantly the pupil learns and progresses quickly. I can adapt my lessons according to particular tastes in music and whether you want to work towards exams or play as a hobby I can cater for this also. I have availability now so please do get in touch and would love to get you started.
