I've been accompanying almost as long as I've been playing the piano (30+ years!), and ever since high school, that's been the musical role that has brought me the greatest amount of joy (and still does!) Over the years, in South Africa and the UK, I've accompanied soloists for exams, auditions and concerts; played continuo in Baroque ensembles; played the pipe organ for hundreds of church services, weddings and funerals; worked with innumerable singers in the fields of lieder, cabaret, musicals, pop and EDM; and also collaborated with many professionals in a broad range of musical styles and genres. I am available to accompany local ABRSM, Trinity and Rock School exams, auditions, concerts, and for the Springboard Festival in March. My main aim is to provide a professional, positive and fun experience for ALL musicians needing accompaniment, irrespective of age, level or background. With many years of performing experience behind me, I also have many positive techniques to share on how to prepare for exams and concerts, deal with performance anxiety and nerves, and how to present an authentic and stylish performance! Rehearsals can happen at my studio in Saltdean or in the Brighton area (if I am able to travel there easily by public transport). Please email or call me for more information and my rates.
