Richard Lawson Pianos has been involved in the supply of pianos for four decades and with this bring a wealth of expertise to the process of buying pianos. We have expertise in the set up to a deep understanding of how that effects the sound and touch when the piano is played. Richard Lawson Pianos, Hertfordshire's expert piano supplier. Based from our piano showroom in Rickmansworth, we have been involved in the piano trade for over forty years and bring a wealth of expertise to the piano buying process. Our experience spans from the technical knowledge of piano refurbishment and set-up to the more instinctive understanding of a piano player, such as a piano's sound and touch when it is played. We have an enviable range of pianos for sale by reputable piano manufacturers such as Yamaha, Kawai and Petrof. Our piano range extends from simple Yamaha U1 and Yamaha U3 upright pianos, all the way up to grand pianos such as the Steinway Grand and the Yamaha CF Concert Grand. We are also proud to supply various Disklavier pianos, modern reproducing pianos with an excellent array of electronic record and playback features. Our range of pianos is popular among clients ranging from absolute beginners to international concert pianists. Some regular clients to our piano store are well known within the music industry and prefer the discreet service that we can provide if required. In addition to amateur and professional pianists we are also regularly approached by those working in education. Many schools and local authorities choose us as a trusted supplier who can be relied upon to offer 100% satisfaction and competitive prices. We have sold thousands of Yamaha U3 and Yamaha U1 over the years, and Disklavier pianos are extensively used in music education due to their features.
